

Event Playbook

Conferences

You have in your hands the proven keys to simplify and improve your virtual conferences, whether you're an Event Organizer, Coordinator, or Marketing Manager.

With this playbook, you'll be able to deliver cutting-edge content and meaningful networking for your conference attendees.

You're about to discover Remo's full potential to let you deliver engaging experiences easily. Specifically, you're going to master the Run of Show feature, which will help you stay organized and focused on ensuring your event runs without glitches or hiccups.

Run of Show

The Run of Show is a behind-the-scenes tool that can help you track your agenda, event actions to be taken, and who's responsible [Person In Charge or PIC].

Copy the sample Run of Show below to build one for your own event.

You'll want to customize the Run of Show for your event. As you do, keep in mind the key elements of virtual conferences:

- Interactive Networking – Attendees really value small group collaborative chats, discussions, and spontaneous hallway conversations.
- Dynamic Presentations – Let your speakers and audience connect over ground-breaking content.
- Panel Discussions – Have groups of experts seamlessly exchange ideas on trending topics.

While this sample Run of Show details a half-day conference with just 4 sessions, you can easily duplicate the above to suit your event's needs. Simply extend this agenda and Run of Show for a full-day event and add speaker sessions and panel discussions as needed.

When ending a Presentation and returning to Conversation mode, make sure to inform your guests about the following:

- What to do during the break.
- How to move around.
- How to check out the whiteboards and resource links.
- When the next Presentation session begins.

Summary

With this easy-to-replicate Run of Show, you're all set for a smooth event.

Through an easy virtual format, you'll be providing stimulating speaker sessions, insightful panel discussions, and those valuable serendipitous hallway conversations.
